Setting God's People Free

Setting God's People Free is a national initiative by the Church of England to encourage whole-life discipleship, so that members of our congregations are better equipped to live out their Christian calling Monday to Saturday as well as Sunday. It is about helping people to live intentionally as Christians in the workplace, the home and the neighbourhood. Over the next few months, the team which is co-ordinating Setting God's People Free in the Diocese is looking to work with around ten pilot parishes, of different sizes, contexts and church traditions. The aim of the pilot will be to assess how well congregations feel they are currently equipped in this area, and how confident they feel about it, and to trial different approaches and resources with them. The learning from the pilot exercise will then feed into a major launch of Setting God's People free in the diocese early in 2019. If your parish wishes to express interest in being one of the ten pilot parishes, please e-mail Michael Gilbertson, the Archdeacon of Chester, by Friday 27 April.
